1 | Finished in French brass metal with an Agaria stone inset top, the Marion Folding Table from Vanguard is ready wherever you need it. $837. Vanguardfurniture.com.

2 | The Karlson Drinks Table from Currey & Co. makes a bold statement with hand-painted vellum and offers hidden storage with a removable top. $1,030. Wyndecrest Home in Beach Haven or curreycodealers.com.

3 | The simplicity of the Icon Table from Hancock & Moore allows its unique mix of materials — brass and marble — to shine as the stars of the design. Its hexagonal tabletop works in harmony with the rectangular block base. $3,000. White House Luxe in Fairfield, Palisade Furniture in Englewood or hancockandmoore.com.

4 | Perfectly sized for two cocktails, the Elijah Round Drink Table from Interlude Home showcases a top finished in smoked figured eucalyptus. $675. Wostbrock Home in Ridgewood or interludehome.com.

5 | Cast in solid brass and given an antique finish, the Fitzgerald Accent Table from Arteriors features a white marble top and a medallion with a polished brass faceted nugget. $1,800. Arteriorshome.com.

6 | A shiny whisper of gold metal has been crafted into a lyrically scalloped, columnar side table called Good as Gold from Caracole. The slight raised edge around the top keeps drinks in place. Perfect for reflecting the party around you. For price and dealer locator, caracole.com.
