CARACOLE:
NEW DIRECTION

By ISABELLA OLIVARES

In our modern, fast-paced society, we always go for things that are familiar. But one brand is championing a new direction in home interiors.

The word “caracole” can be defined as a slow, turning movement. In dressage, it refers to a graceful half-turn that’s perfectly executed by the horse and its rider. But for the Dexterton brand of the same name, it means “a beautiful turn in a new direction.”

But what is this new direction that Caracole is leading the Filipino home to? It’s an inspired and adventurous development in form and function, as Caracole’s collections offer an eclectic mix of unique materials, glamorous finishes and custom-designed hardware. Their sophisticated designs — which range from classic to modern — incorporate functional features which are kept hidden from sight so as not to detract from the beauty of the piece.

Caracole Signature is the ultimate expression of class and style; While Caracole Modern is all about complementing an on-the-go lifestyle

Each line in Caracole is designed to help customers fulfill their home furnishing dreams by catering to their different tastes and needs.

Caracole Classic is for the consumer with sophisticated tastes who wants to effortlessly blend old and new pieces in a style that is elegant but creative. The silhouettes in this collection range from traditional to contemporary for dining rooms, living spaces, bedrooms and offices. They are made with unique materials such as silver and gold leaf, bone and fumed eucalyptus, and come in a neutral palette that makes them easy to match.

Caracole Modern, on the other hand, is for the consumer who lives a busy, on-the-go lifestyle and who searches for furniture that have concrete functions that address their needs. Here, silhouettes and forms made with natural materials such as woods and neutral fabrics are fitted with sleek hardware such as electronic charging stations, innovative storage options and hidden security features.

Finally, Caracole Signature caters to the connoisseur of high, international design. It uses a medley of elegant materials that have been finely crafted into regal and stylish furniture. These pieces are dramatic statements wrapped in lacquered ebony, unique wood veneers, soft gold metals, luscious leathers and sumptuous fabrics.

Whether you’re decorating your first apartment as a young professional or your dream house with your hubby and kids, Caracole is ready to lead you in a new decorating direction. ■

Caracole’s flagship store is located at 3/F Greenbelt 5, Makati City.
