THESE REFLECTIVE PIECES MAKE ROOMS LOOK BIGGER AND BRIGHTER BY CALEIGH OSTROM

Theodore Alexander The Mirrored Three

With a central rectangular section and two bowfront end sections, this design also has dished mirrored tops and can be separated in a living space as two side tables and a coffee table.

Caracole Bedroom Beauty-Full

Italian style combines with an auric silver leaf finish and beveled antique mirror facades, framed with carved details. Featuring five soft-close drawers, the interior is finished with sparkling gold bullion paint.

Currey and Company Cicely Accent Table

With a pyramid base composed of thin strips of stacked antique mirrors, this piece is treated with a brass finish, creating a classic shape with a modern feel. An antique circle mirror is set on the tabletop, and the base is fitted with ball feet.

Highland House Mirrored Stool

Synonymous with fine, classic, and traditional upholstery and fashion-forward fabrics, Highland makes comfort a priority. This stool is available in multiple finishes and upholstery choices.

Chaddock Legend Etagere

A brass base with glass shelving makes for the display for keepsakes and bric-a-brac.

Theodore Alexander Romantic Cabinet

This mirrored cabinet has two panel doors centered by rosettes enclosing a silver interior with an adjustable shelf.

Cynthia Rowley for Hooker Furniture Swirl California King Venetian Upholstered Bed

An elegant design of Venetian, églomisé and mercury glass mirrors—etched, scalloped, and dusted in silver on the headboard and topped with a mirrored cartouche.

Vanguard Soho Grand Chair

Legs in this lovely design are finished with mirror-polished stainless steel, the arms with a satin ebony finish. The webbed seat is filled with relaxed down.
